The Unforced Rhythms of Grace

“Are you tired? Worn out? ... Learn the unforced rhythms of grace.” Matthew 11 (the Message)

Summer is the perfect time to give yourself permission to pause, and to settle in to some true stillness. So why not join us for a gentle but purposeful day retreat at Riddlesworth, where you can do just that? Once again, we'll be in the company of Brian Draper, who will lead us with an evocative blend of guided reflection and time for personal space and silence. We will also walk the grass labyrinth together, which is always a compelling experience.

So kick off your shoes and come prepared to reconnect with some of the 'unforced rhythms of grace'!

Brian says, “We've had some really significant times at the Wigwam Centre in recent years. The labyrinth is one of the loveliest I've ever walked, and there's enough space in the day, and within the grounds, to recover our poise, to remember what matters most, and to find deeper communion with God. It always does my soul good to come to Riddlesworth, and I'm sure you'll feel the same!”

So we do hope you will be able to join us for a break from the busyness, to treat yourself to a languorous time of soulful exploration and restoration.
